Narberth Amateur Teams Are Playing All Star Ball

Challenges and Counter Challenges Numerous

Monday evening Harst's Narberth All Stars defeated Ray Weiss' Married Men's Team by the Cricket score of 21 to 6.

The game developed into some good running practice for the outfielders of the Married Men. The All Stars had the range of the "Cricket" and several home runs resulted.

Ensinger pitched a good game in easy style and the all around infield work of the Stars astounded the natives and was well worth watching especially the playing of "Stew" Turner at First Base. Some of those old has-beens can still handle and pick the ball.

Being accustomed to accept punishment, the Married Men with considerably strengthened lineup are coming back for more with a game scheduled this coming Friday evening, Aug. 4th. Harst, being a married man and with a feeling of fellowship and compunction for others in the same fix is slated to pitch this game so there is a good chance that the score will look better and who knows but the Married Men may at that win a decision. It will be worth seeing anyhow.

This coming Monday evening will show you the biggest game yet and a scrap from the word go. Look what the All Stars are going to tackle per lineup below. If they win that game all comers will be taken on with the only stipulation that no team will be allowed to pitch Walter Johnson.

LET'S GO!

The North Side Professionals, an aggregation of stellar ball tossers, pasturing twilightly, were very much interested in the July 29th issue of "Our Town," which stated that a game between the Narberth All Stars and the Narberth Married Men's Club was scheduled for the evening of July 31st. Of course, the result is now written in local history, but the fact remains that in speaking of contests hereabouts rivaling World Series in importance, the North Side Professionals must be considered. So far, all comers have been met and vanquished, the latest victims being Weiss' Wonders and the strong Windsor-Essex Club.

Therefore, he it resolved that the hat is in the ring and word is anxiously awaited from the teams aforesaid stated, also all others, with or without grounds. Write, call, telegraph, or telephone (Narberth 308 W.) Chas. A. McIntire, 219 Wayne Ave., and book this fast attraction.

So as all who read may know the caliber of talent involved, (married and hopeful) just cast optics on the following personnel: Hurd, c.; B. Yocum, p.; "Pop" Litchfield, 1b.; Zimmer, 2b.; McIntire, 3b.; C. Yocum, ss.; D. Eckle, lf.; W. Litchfield, cf.; Siggins, rf.; Pinch Hitters, Wolf, Niece, Leitch and Ross.

IN CAMP

Thirty members of the Narberth Boy Scouts left last Saturday for Camp Delmont, on Unami Creek, in the Perkiomen Valley.

The troop was in charge of the Scoutmaster, Fred C. Patten. Many of the boys will return today, although a number will probably stay for a second week. A report of the trip will shortly be published in Our Town.

NARBERTH AUTO TAGS

A number of weeks ago, several Narberth residents spoke to Mr. C. W. Bergner about the idea of seeing that the licenses of Narberth autos were equipped with an auxiliary tag bearing the name of the Year Round Home Town.

Mr. Bergner looked up prices, designed a very spiffy tag, and sent in his order to have them manufactured. After quite a delay a good sized shipment was received. They lasted, it is said, nearly three days. He ordered more, and the new lot arrived this week.

These articles were stocked at the request of a number of residents, and it is urged that motorists who are not ashamed of where they come from equip their machines with the signs. The design, in black and white is very attractive. No, this article is not to boost friend Bergner's business. You are, of course, at liberty to buy them anywhere, or make them yourselves, but, willy nilly, see that you have a set. Some day, when you are touring through Texas or New Mexico, you will pass a car so equipped and may run over a gila monster in the excitement of seeing someone from home.

And while we are in the process of drumming up trade, we would like to call attention to a Narberth industry we have failed to touch on before in these columns. For some weeks now Mr. J. P. White, manager of the White Sweet Shop, has been operating a bakery and ice cream plant in the basement of his store. The plant is a marvel of cleanliness and an example of up-to-date methods. We go down there every week for Mr. White's ad, and have been quite surprised at the compactness of the plant.

Another little matter which might have been mentioned before is that of the improvements being made by Howard Davis. A good-sized addition is being made at the rear of the premises, and a number of changes in the arrangements are planned for the near future. The work is being done by Fred Mohrfeld.

And last but not least, we were too crowded last week to mention the window display arranged by the Narberth Coal and Building Material Company. Mr. Dunne has set up a very interesting exhibit of the various stages in the manufacture of Portland Cement, in addition to an arrangement of other building supplies. The cement samples are well worth looking at, and we hope the exhibit will not have been removed by the time this number of "Our Town" is issued.

Improvements and new features in the business section do a great deal to help along the beauty and prosperity of Narberth.

LUTHERAN CHURCH IMPROVES LOT

The Holy Trinity Lutheran Church which recently purchased the lot at the corner of Narberth and Woodbine Avenues have had a force of men clean off the rubbish, etc., which had accumulated, thereby making the lot more presentable and in keeping with the surrounding properties.

This was certainly a much needed improvement, especially as Narberth Ave. is one of the main thoroughfares of the Borough, and has drawn much favorable comment particularly from those owning adjacent properties.

We are informed the Church officers propose to keep the lot in good condition and we feel sure they will have the co-operation of the Borough Officials, and also of the citizens in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Hervey C. Keim with their daughter and son, motored to Washington, D. C., over last weekend.

Miss Lillian Compton and Miss Elenor Ward left today for the Delaware Water Gap where they will spend two weeks.

Have you renewed your subscription?

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Livingston are at Atlantic City for the month of August.

School Board Meets

The Narberth School Board held its regular monthly meeting last Monday evening in the School office. All members of the Board were present, and considerable routine was transacted. The report of the auditors, who have examined the books of the Treasurer and Tax Collector was received.

Among other subjects brought up was that of certain changes to be made to improve the facilities for children who bring their own lunch to school. The place for this is a large room adjacent to the kitchen of the regular school lunch room. Complaints were received that the room was too dark for gloomy days, and the Board is taking steps to correct this. A ceiling, of a light color, is to be laid over the beams, and additional lighting facilities will be installed. These improvements will make this room much more pleasant.

It was also decided, on the suggestion of Mrs. Batchelor, that a lounge be provided for the rest room in the Elementary Building, and that cushions be secured for the room in the High School building. This furnishing will be done before the opening of school next month.

Suggestions relative to the new school were reported by members of the Board, and several matters of detail in this project were discussed. Action will be taken very shortly to secure advance bids on the work, so that the exact amount of the loan necessary can be announced.

Here is the story of some neighbors who need a school about as badly as Narberth does:

Wyckoff, N. J., Aug. 2. -Wyckoff, which has a population of only 500, has been officially commended by the State Commissioner of Education, Mr. Enright for its action in appropriating $100,000, for a new school. The building is to replace one destroyed by fire some time ago. With the completion of the work, it is said, Wyckoff will have one of the earliest schools in the State in proportion to its population.

ALL DRESSED UP

Have you seen the clever new uniform being worn by our United States Mail Messenger, Howard Stalker? The Uniform is being secured by slow degrees, the first degree being a brand new regulation hat, now in service. The hat, of tender blue, is equipped with bell crown, plate bearing the title of the wearer, 'everything'. This week the messenger has accompanied the hat with a new suit, and is quite the cats, if we may stoop to such language.

The proper fitting out of the mail messenger, a new feature of the Post Office since May 1st, was accomplished through the efforts of Mr. Haws, who wished to put this department of the local work on a more dignified footing before he leaves the office. This will, in all probability be the last of the many improvements which have marked Mr. Haws' term of office, as it is expected that the new postmaster, Fred C. Patten, will assume charge of the office the first of the week.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARN

A barn on the farm of A. E. Saul, on Summit Avenue, Fairview, was struck by lightning during the electrical storm last Tuesday evening.

The Narberth Fire Company was summoned, but by the time they reached the spot, the fire was beyond control. All three of the Narberth engines responded. They were handicapped by the absence of water, and were able to do little else than to prevent the spread of the flames.

The building was a total loss. Two horses were burned to death in the blaze. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

Mr. George S. Rose left yesterday to visit friends at Huntington, Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ross and daughter, Miss Gertrude Ross, left last Saturday for a trip to Maine.

Narberth Ball Team Are Victors Over Stafford

Local Players Crowding First Place in League

Narberth journeyed to Stafford last Saturday, and gave their hosts a 14-8 jolt. By winning this game the local team strengthened its hold on second place, sharing the honors now with Wayne, first half victors.

Now, if Wayne beats Ardmore, and Narberth defeats Berwyn today, there will be a three cornered battle for first honors. Narberth is playing an excellent brand of ball, and has a well-calculated eye on the second half pennant.

This afternoon's game will be played at home, against Berwyn.

Increasingly large crowds have been witnessing these games, on Sullivan Field, below Rockland Avenue. Today's is the last home game for three weeks.

A STATION NUISANCE

A reader writes: "It seems perfectly terrible that Narberth station can't be kept more quiet by the taxi drivers, as it is a great annoyance to the people coming off the trains."

This remark will strike a responsive chord in many commuters who have been bothered by the obstreperous actions of the various and sundry taxi drivers who inhabit one night almost every Narberth station.

In the rush hours, when a few hundred people, more or less, are trying to make their way down the non-too-wide sidewalk to Haverford Avenue, it is no easy matter to thread one's way through several shouting, gesticulating Knights of Glib and Demand. These rival drivers make it a practice to stand in the middle of the way, trying, first by shouting, then by physical obstruction, to convince the prospective "fare" of the merits of his particular driver.

A few weeks ago, two of these drivers became so worked up over this form of competition that words came to blows, and as the result of the altercation, they were taken before Justice of the Peace Howard C. Fritsch, who released them after a warning. Further affairs of this kind will in all probability not end so pleasantly.

The pavement from the station to Haverford Avenue is a public thoroughfare, and exists for the convenience of users of the railroad, and those going between the North and South Sides. The taxi men are permitted to use the driveways in order to further convenience the public, not to obstruct them.

These practices will not help, and cannot but injure the operators resorting to them. Narberth is a dignified town, and its citizens will not stand East Side tactics in any matter involving their daily conveniences. If the drivers of Narberth's taxis wish to hold the respect and patronage of the people, they must cut out the rough stuff.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

We were much interested in that sweetly worded first page Editorial headed "Those Who Share," which graced last week's issue. But our glowing, fervid interest soon waned to a state of vapidity when upon completing a most careful perusal we found no credit had been given the Column for its ever-present aid and unqualified assistance in keeping ravenous financial wolves from the door of this Esteemed Journal.

Heck! And also Shucks! Fate continually seems to will that the poor, cadaverous atom of humanity responsible for the few hundred woefully wrought, weekly words of human interest served up in this expensive space is indubitably one Devil who will never get his just due.

While no particular lawn mower was signified or implied by our July 29th paragraph launched in the cause of more smooth running things around and about this our unparalleled Borough, yet that time honored proverb about the self-accusation of guilty consciences appears to have started the Anti-Norse Yeast working upon an overdone basis. Rumor posts us to the effect that Hon. Berghner and Hon. Ritten have had not more than seventy-six empty, perambulatory, Narberth carriages cast into their Emporiums for the purpose of saving adjustment and general repair.

Which again nicely illustrates the mighty Power of the Press and the subtle efficacy of the tongue as a means toward the righting of wrongs, the alleviating of sufferings, the eradicating of incipient predatory monsoons and the general getting of things across.

We wish to offer our testimony to the effect that the Narberth Superior South Side Corner Team is a winner. Last week the first tune turned out fine about four o'clock. The second harmonious attempt was not so successful, however. We strongly recommend that the alto player cool his instrument for five minutes in iced tea after every nineteen minutes of continuous playing. This will permit him to retain his ambition. And as well it will partially appease his appreciative auditors and eventually gum his keys so effectively that scores of babies in the neighborhood will slumber undisturbed. It will also prevent the possibility of the appalling property damage that is invariably attendant upon a barrage of brickbats, paving stones and sections of cement walks.

Outside of wishing "Steamed P. M. Patten "Gawd Speed!" in his new "professione postale" we have no comments to make. Hon. Editor has made 'em all. On second thought we will suggest, however, that our blossoming new P. M. seriously considers installing a licker machine at the stamp window. The mere mention of such a device would draw some of our worthy Citizenry about the P. O. as thick as flies around a molasses jug.

Last evening the Gracious Enchantress informed us we and her litterateur mainstay comprised a team in that he was so long-winded and we were so funny. For her edification we shall make bold to state that the only time previous that the word "funny" has ever been tacked on us was when a most intimate party by marriage told us we were "funny" looking. Be it known we are chary and proud of our Corinthian Contour. There is not another like it. Hence therefore, if the pforesaid G. Enchantress had any such similar frivolous idea in her noodle when she made her statement she may just keep her blamed old pereunials. So there!

Entweder Elizabeth ist zu haus oder jemand thr stoff gestohlen haben. That "half opened door" business in last week's Library Notes has had our goat ever since. Consequently.

Dear Missis Would:

We seen by your article that we notice your door were half opened. What is the difference between half opened and half shut where flies is concern. Either one is the same as each other, which at least so we was learned at school and if they is a difference you can oblige us by so stating and thus clear out our mind. Flies get in doors half opened as well as half shut. We don't get you. Trusting you will reply by writing in the care of our paper which will give you good notoriety and attention to same. Now we must stop and hoping you had a good time up to Marblehead which the poet Whittier motorized with his Screeching Wimin, we remain, yours respectfully.

Shortage of Building Sites in Narberth

Consult us about the purchase of new land, or if you own property that you would like to secure a return on.

Narberth's growth has been consistent. This may be why our folks do not realize there is little available land in Narberth for home building.

Some are planning new homes and we cannot too strongly urge the selection of the building site before it is too late.

Or, for investment, the purchase of land with constantly improving property values will yield good returns.

STEERS TO RIGHT READING

By Amy A. Bull

To promote the general welfare of current literature among Narberth readers, there will appear each week a short but pithy review of a book that cannot be obtained at the Narberth Community Library. This week the people's choice will be:

"The Mind in the Baking," by James Barvey Robinson

Research into the mysterious mysteries of the culinary art as regards parties is anything but common. Who shall say otherwise? When such a work is usually attempted, the necessary data seems for some unknown reason to literally collaborate itself without the aid or abetment of an author. In this case we are refreshed by something different. We are told that human society must be saved by intelligent thinking about all matters, including pie. Which is as it should be. Mr. Robinson by doing his authorial work in French Spooftian has viewed his subject from an entirely foreign point. And the result is in a way quite delectable. He dilates at great length upon calves' brains in pate and pie forms and intimates that when one eats these delicately prepared neopient bovine cerebral mechanism one should simultaneously repeat many times, "I simply will be smart. I simply will be smart," claiming that in many cases where this prescribed course has been followed, the eater really did become smart, eventually. This talented writer has raised his subject far above the ordinary boundary limits of mediocrity and classicized it. Some may presume that a work of this type might be hard to digest, but your reviewer found it extremely otherwise in fact most otherwise.

Amy A. Bull.

Communication

To the Editor of Our Town:

Mr. Fred Walzer who has been for several weeks at Ocean City, N. J., has just returned to his home in Narberth. Mr. Walzer, who is a baseball fan, naturally found his way to Ocean City Base Ball Park. The management who knew him on the Main Line Circuit at once enlisted his services on the coaching line where he became a familiar figure. He had the confidence of all the players and it was with a feeling of regret that they learned he was to return home after the game on the 20th. The feeling of the team was expressed by the team's captain, saying, "You had Fred had to go." Kindly publish this note in your paper as an appreciation from the team and management.

M. Mackenzie, Manager,
Ocean City Base Ball Club.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

"Robin," by Frances Hodgson Burnett
Sequel to "The Head of the House of Gable." An idyllic love story of a boy and a girl who as the war approached were conscious only of the realities of happiness in the present. For them there was no certainty of a future, and how they met their tragedy is beautifully told in Mrs. Burnett's memorable manner.

There goes the groom.

A young man home from the war and four bachelors then plan to see him safely married and his clever emigration of their plots. When the engagements are announced one by one, George's is not included.

The Return of Alfred, Anonymous.

A rainy night and a railroad strike leaving James Smith (alias) stranded in a region far from home; an effort to beg a night's lodging only to be received as the long lost son of the family; luxury and ease and a notorious past to outlive; and a happy solution.

Daughter of the Middle Border, Hamline Garland.

Winner of the Pulitzer prize of 1922 for the best biography teaching patriotic and unselfish service to the people. This book and its forerunner "A Son of the Middle Border," describe graphically life in the middle west in its pioneering days.

The Doom Trail, Arthur Howden Smith

Thrilling story of contest between England and France for control of the fur trade in Canada. Emigrants arriving on mysterious errands, Papist plots and Indian strategy form the basis of this historical novel.

PALACE THEATRE, ARDMORE, PA.

Program Week of Monday, Aug. 7

Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 7 and 8, Betty Compson in "Green Temptation." Wednesday, August 9, Will Rogers in "A Poor Relation." Also 3 big acts of vaudeville today. Thursday, Aug. 10, Ann Forrest and David Powell in "Love's Boomerang." Friday, Aug. 11, Charles Ray in "R. S. V. P." Saturday, Aug. 12, Agnes Ayres in "The Lane That Had No Turning." And 3 big acts of vaudeville. Our houses are crowded on Wednesday and Saturdays for our vaudeville. We have vaudeville acts from the down town houses and in connection with our good pictures, we give our patrons a very fine program on these nights.
